Project Statement

Project Title

The project title should succinctly describe the focus of the award activity (for example, Dimensional Reduction Approaches for Large Scale Data or Reliable Water Supplies: Measuring Continuity and Predictability in Water Systems).

Brief Summary of Project Statement

In 3-5 sentences, provide a summary of the Fulbright project that easily allows non-specialists to appreciate the significance of the project or any potential contributions to the field. (700-character limit, use Roman characters only).

The project statement is the most vital component of the Fulbright application. Scholars with the most compelling, theoretically sound, well-written, feasible proposals are generally recommended for awards. Sometimes those with outstanding professional achievements assume that a brief, general project statement will be sufficient. It is not. To ensure a competitive application, your proposed project, as well as the strategy for completing it, should be thoroughly explained in three to five pages.

Upload a detailed project statement of not more than five single-spaced pages (3,500 words) on this page of your online application form.

FORMAT

- Do not exceed the page limit of the proposal.
- Begin the project statement with the project title at the top of page one.
- Organize your proposal in order of the following points, which appear in bold print, and use them as headings for sections of text in your statement.

GUIDANCE FOR A RESEARCH PROJECT

Background: Introduce the research topic. Place the project in an academic or professional context by referring to major works by others on the subject.

Objectives: Clearly define the aims of the project.

United States-India Educational Foundation

www.usief.org.in

Methodology: Describe the project. Explain the approach, methods and plan you will use (for example, interviews, library or archival research, or laboratory experiments). Indicate whether the proposed research is quantitative or qualitative.

Significance: Explain the importance of the project for the field, India and the U.S., and your own professional development. Indicate what effect you expect the opportunity to have on your teaching or professional work in India. (For example: new approaches to curriculum planning, student advising or pedagogy; expanding knowledge in the field through collaboration with U.S. colleagues). Briefly describe the expected impact of your participation on your home institution, community, or professional field.

Evaluation and Dissemination: Describe plans for the assessment and distribution of research results in your home country and elsewhere.

Justification for Residence in the United States for the Proposed Project: Indicate why it is necessary to conduct the research onsite in the United States.

Research Plan and Timeline: Provide a monthly/quarterly timeline of the execution of your Fulbright-Nehru project in the U.S.

English Proficiency: Describe your schooling in English, use of English and competence level in speaking, reading and writing.

Other: If applicable, indicate the quantity, format, and transportation requirements for any botanical, zoological or mineral samples that you will need to bring to the United States for analysis.

ADDITIONAL CONTENT RECOMMENDATIONS

You might find the following additional advice from former Fulbright scholars, reviewers, and program staff useful in preparing a more competitive application.

- Submit a clear and complete project statement that introduces you professionally to your colleagues in the United States. The best applications are those that reflect the applicant's purpose and intent.
- Make sure that your qualifications and your expertise match the objectives in your project statement. You should be able to show that you are qualified to accomplish what you are proposing to do.
- Emphasize how your project will benefit the host institution or other scholars in your field both in India and in the United States. Address in your project statement the ways in which you will use the experience upon your return. What is the likely impact of your experience abroad? How will you use what you learned upon your return, professionally and personally?
- Discuss any preparatory steps you have taken or will take before starting your grant. For example, if you plan to bring samples of plants, chemicals, human tissue, etc., indicate that you have discussed your plans with your prospective host and applicable agencies to determine what clearance and approval processes are needed.
- Connect your past experience to what you are preparing to do if you receive an award. Explain the project's significance and its importance to the field. Focus on what can be reasonably accomplished during the period of the grant.
- Do not assume that your suitability for the project is self-evident. Your standing in your field may not be well known to reviewers. You need to make a case for yourself based on your past experience and current scholarly endeavors. Explain the significance of your project in language that will be understood by reviewers from outside your field.
- Do not stress only how a Fulbright grant will benefit you or your career. Remember that the program is intended to foster mutual understanding between cultures and nations.
- Be specific in describing your previous work and in laying out the nature of your proposed Fulbright activity. A frequent failing in applications is that the proposal is underdeveloped or too imprecise to give reviewers a clear sense of the endeavor.

STYLE RECOMMENDATIONS

United States-India Educational Foundation

www.usief.org.in

- Express what you can bring to the program clearly and succinctly. Think of the basic questions that need to be answered: Why should I apply for a Fulbright award to come to the United States? If selected, what will I do and how will I do it? What preparations have I made to complete the project? What can I contribute to the Fulbright Program? What will the results of my participation be? Include only the most pertinent information in forming your responses so as not to exceed the page restrictions. At the same time, you should avoid writing a proposal so brief that it will be difficult for the reviewer to understand the project.
- Emphasize key points in the first paragraph of the proposal. Reviewers examine many Fulbright applications, and having to search for the main points of the proposed activity is not helpful. You should grab the reviewer's attention quickly and state clearly what you want to do, why it is important and how you will do it. You should use the rest of the proposal to support your statements in the opening paragraphs.
- Pay attention to style in your proposal. You may want to use the first person, but you should avoid flooding your proposal with "I's" or referring to yourself in the third person.
- Keep your proposal simple and straightforward so that an educated reader from another discipline can understand it.

Bibliography: Once you select the Research category, the Bibliography page will become accessible for providing a list of one to three pages of references relevant to your proposed research.

Academic Discipline

Major Academic Discipline: Please select the most appropriate major academic discipline and primary specialization.

Briefly describe the area of the field in which you plan to specialize.

☞ Important note: The disciplines and the specializations in the drop-down menus may not exactly match the list of eligible fields for the Fulbright-Nehru Postdoctoral Research Fellowship. You must indicate your chosen eligible field of study in the FNPOSTDOC Applicant Annexure and upload it on your online application.

Intended Grant Period

Fulbright-Nehru Postdoctoral Research Fellowships are for 8-24 months for research at a U.S. institution. You are required to indicate the period in which you can complete your proposed project in the U.S. Please determine your grant duration carefully.

Note: The duration will not be changed later. It is recommended that you plan your program during the U.S. academic year (generally August/September through March), when your U.S. colleagues are more likely to be available. You should start your grant between August 2027 and March 2028.

Host Institutional Affiliation

Have you made arrangements for affiliation with a U.S. host institution?

Select "yes" or "no" from the list to indicate your response.

If you click 'yes', please report one primary and, if applicable, a secondary/backup (if applicable) host institution affiliation that you have pre-arranged and provide information on the institution and the faculty contact or campus host with whom you have been in contact.

United States-India Educational Foundation

www.usief.org.in

If you click 'No' provide information on the institution with which you would like an affiliation. Also, provide details of the faculty member and rationale for suggested affiliation.

You will be affiliated to only one U.S. host institution for your entire grant duration.

USIEF strongly recommends all applicants to identify institutions with which they wish to be affiliated and to correspond, in advance with potential host institutions. However, this is not mandatory.

Irrespective of whether or not you have obtained letters of invitation from the U.S. host institutions, please complete this page. Please list up to two institutions, in order of priority along with the requested details.

If you made arrangements for affiliation with a U.S. host institution, provide the following information and attach your letter of invitation in the document upload section later in the application. If you have not made arrangements for affiliation, identify maximum two preferences in order of priority.

Letter of Invitation

- Please upload the invitation received from university/research lab here. Letters of invitation should be typed on institutional letterhead and signed. The letter should also contain the proposed academic year, grant dates, duration, name of the faculty advisor etc.
- It is necessary that you upload the host invitation letter to your online application. If an invitation arrives after you have submitted the application, forward the invitation to postdoc@usief.org.in
- If you cannot find the name of your preferred institution in the search menu, then type in the institution's name in the text box provided.
- Invitations do not ensure selection for an award.
- If you have more than one invitation, merge the invitations as one file and then upload.

Alternate Awards

You can apply for only ONE Fulbright-Nehru fellowship category during a competition cycle. Please enter below the names of any alternate awards for which you are being considered.

Click Save and Continue to save your responses and advance to the next section.

OUTREACH LECTURING FUND TOPICS

As Fulbright project titles often include specialized academic or scientific terminology, we invite you to share broader, accessible topics you have expertise in that may be of interest to institutions seeking to host scholars through the OLF program. RECOMMENDATIONS

Click the “Add Recommenders” button to register your referees. You will need to complete the reference registration form to allow your referee(s) to submit your references online. It is imperative that you accurately enter the information as your referee will receive an automated email informing him/her of the online reference process. Your referees will receive an email from Fulbright@iie.org directly, asking them to register for the website and complete their recommendations. Please confirm preferred email address with the referee.

United States-India Educational Foundation

www.usief.org.in

This process will happen as soon as you provide their contact information and click on “Invite Recommenders.” You will receive an email notification after the referee submits the online recommendation letter. References must be submitted no later than July 15, 2026.

- Do not request more than three referees to submit letters of reference.
- Please provide your referees with a copy of your project statement.
- References should be from people qualified to evaluate your professional work, the abilities you bring to the proposed project, your ability to adapt to another country and culture, and the merits of the project itself.
- References can come from your home institution, but at least one of the references should be from a colleague in your field outside your home institution.
- Choose your referees carefully and contact them early. The letters of recommendation need to accompany the application as it could otherwise be weakened by an insufficient number of references.
- Do not ask someone for a letter of reference unless the person is well acquainted with your qualifications. A pro forma letter from a well-known scholar, a contact abroad or a prominent government official will carry less weight than a realistic assessment of your abilities from someone who knows you and your work well.
- References must be written in or translated into English.
- It is your responsibility to ensure that reference reports are submitted by the deadline.
- Candid, frank reference reports or letters of reference help reviewers place your research proposal within your home institution’s objectives and plans for growth. References also provide evidence of your reputation within your discipline.

Note: Letters of recommendation and language evaluations may be submitted before or after you submit the application. However, ensure that your referees complete their letters of reference prior to the application deadline.

SIGNATURE

To electronically sign the application form, please type in your complete legal name as per your passport and click confirm.

REVIEW

Before you submit your application electronically, your application will be reviewed for completeness. If there is missing data, you will be prompted to correct it. Before you submit your online application, please review it carefully with reference to the FNPOSTDOC Applicant Checklist and ensure that your application is complete in all respects. Do not upload the checklist to your online application.

For the FNPostdoc application, submission of the Applicant Annexure, Ph.D. degree certificate, at least one published paper, and a Letter of Support from your employer (if applicable) is mandatory. Applications will be considered incomplete if any of these documents is missing.

☛ Important: Once you submit the application, you will receive an automated response from Fulbright@iie.org congratulating you for the successful submission of your online application for the Fulbright Visiting Scholar Program.

Note: The United States-India Educational Foundation (USIEF) - Fulbright Commission in India - will NOT send any additional confirmation e-mail to you.
